

Puro Burro Announces New Accommodations in Oaxaca

The Ofrenda Offers Bartenders and Mezcal Aficionados a Unique, Traditional Experience

Oaxaca, México, August 2018: Puro Burro, one of the the first businesses to offer specialized educational mezcal tours for the bar industry, is excited to announce new accommodations for those participating in their popular Oaxaca mezcal trips.

The Ofrenda offers tour participants overnight accommodations and a gathering place that are more like a traditional Mexican home than a hotel. Located in the heart of the lively and beautiful city of Oaxaca, the Ofrenda's colonial architecture and low-key environment offer guests the perfect surroundings to exchange ideas, discuss industry trends or just relax after a full day visiting palenques and tasting mezcals.

“Over the past five years we've been putting our tour participants up in local hotels that are unable to provide a traditional home feeling like the Ofrenda can,” said Eric Giardina, co-founder of Ofrenda and founder of Puro Burro. “The building came available last year and my business partner and I decided it was the perfect space to transform into a place that our guests could call their second home.”

“We turned an empty building into a unique gathering place, specific for people in the mezcal industry,” said Asis Cortes, co-founder of Ofrenda. “The Ofrenda enables our guests to immerse themselves in the culture and beauty of Oaxaca, whether that be from our rooftop enjoying a fresh cocktail with views of the city, or by walking to the many great restaurants and mezcaleria's just steps away.”

The Ofrenda has five sleeping rooms—each room has a private bathroom and shower. Guests can enjoy freshly made mezcal cocktails and snacks at the main bar, or in any of the unique communal spaces available throughout the building.

Puro Burro is currently offering bar industry mezcal tours on the last week of each month. Ofrenda is also available through Airbnb during non-Puro Burro tour weeks and is available for private events. Small group mezcal tours can also be arranged during those times.
